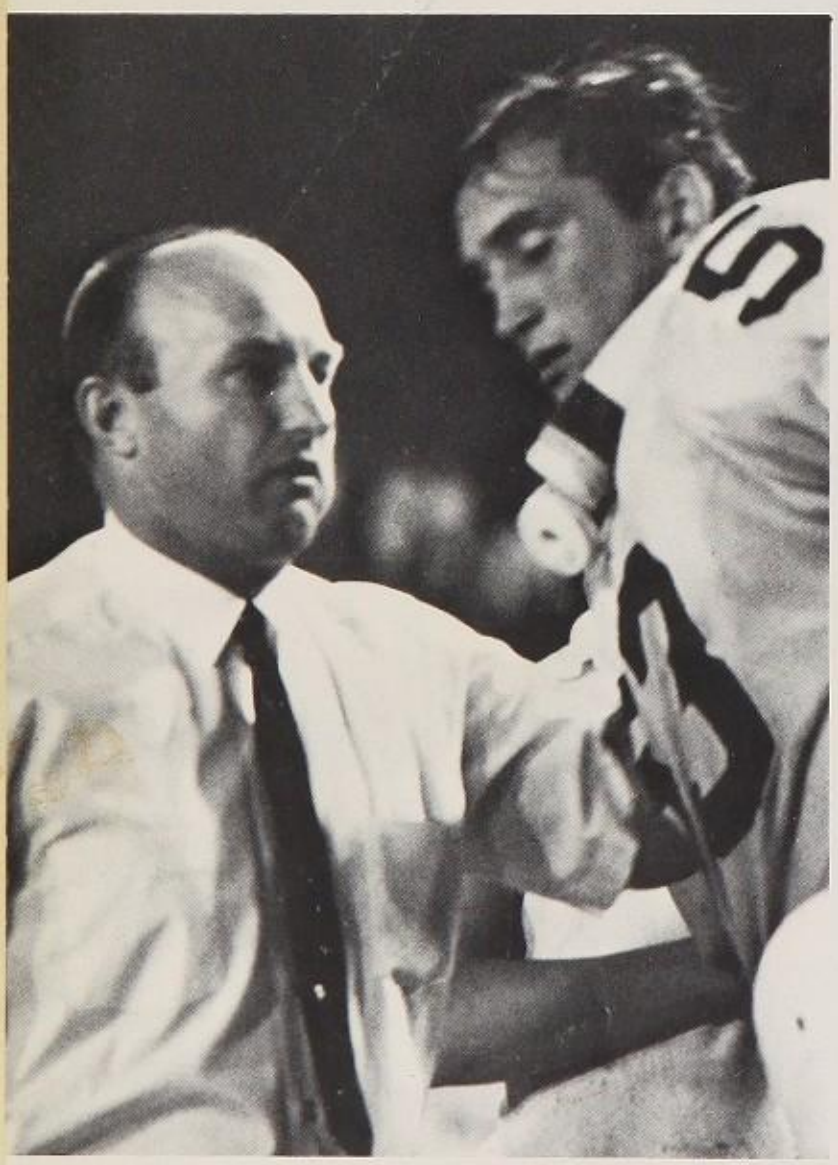
Team Work Builds . . .

In only six years of existence, Robert E. Lee High School has established a tradition for winning. Achieving this winning tradition has not been easy, but we have been fortunate in having the support of many "teams"—and with their help we, in turn, can pass this tradition on.

WHAT IS THE MAIN FACTOR OF A WINNING TRADITION?

TEAMWORK, the co-ordination of effort, makes the task successful and effective. At Lee, there are many different teams made up of people responsible for building this winning tradition.

The student body composes the largest group. They generate the spirit and life of a school. All students grow to love and take pride in Lee. They cry over a lost football game, they spend hours outside of school working on club projects, they spend many hours working on homework; but they all have one aim in mind—to honor the name of Robert E. Lee High School.



There is no better teamwork than that between a coach and his players in the heat of a game. Coach Redd encourages his top lineman, Dubby Moody.

The N.D.C.C. boys conduct the traditional raising of th flag ceremony each day.

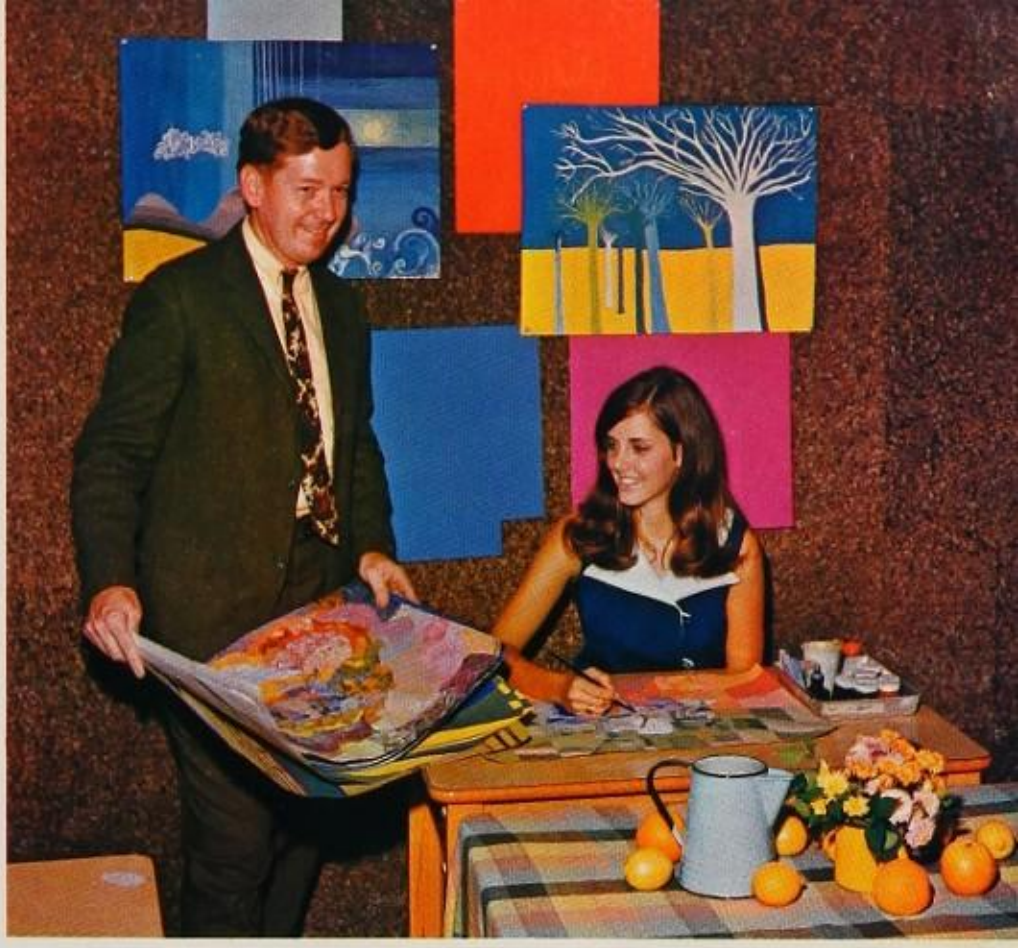
The team of Mr. Shivers, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Smith is a mighty great one.

a Winning Tradition

The student body selects another team, their leaders. These leaders help to better the ideals and goals of Lee and to lead their fellow students along the path of a winning tradition.

To obtain the goal of winning, there must be the people with knowledge and training already possessed; this team is the administration and the faculty of Robert E. Lee. It is an everyday occurrence to see a teacher willingly guide a student through the proofs of geometry, the errors of typing, or the history of our great country.

And certainly another one of our winning teams is made up of parents. They contribute much to Lee's success. Without their love and support, Lee would not have such an outstanding record of achievement.



Our famous art teacher, Mr. Henri Gadbois, and senior art student, Krys Girard, decide on a painting to enter in the next art show.

The winning debate team of Stewart Jay and David Brown are off to capture another tournament victory. They have won 68 of their last 72 debates.

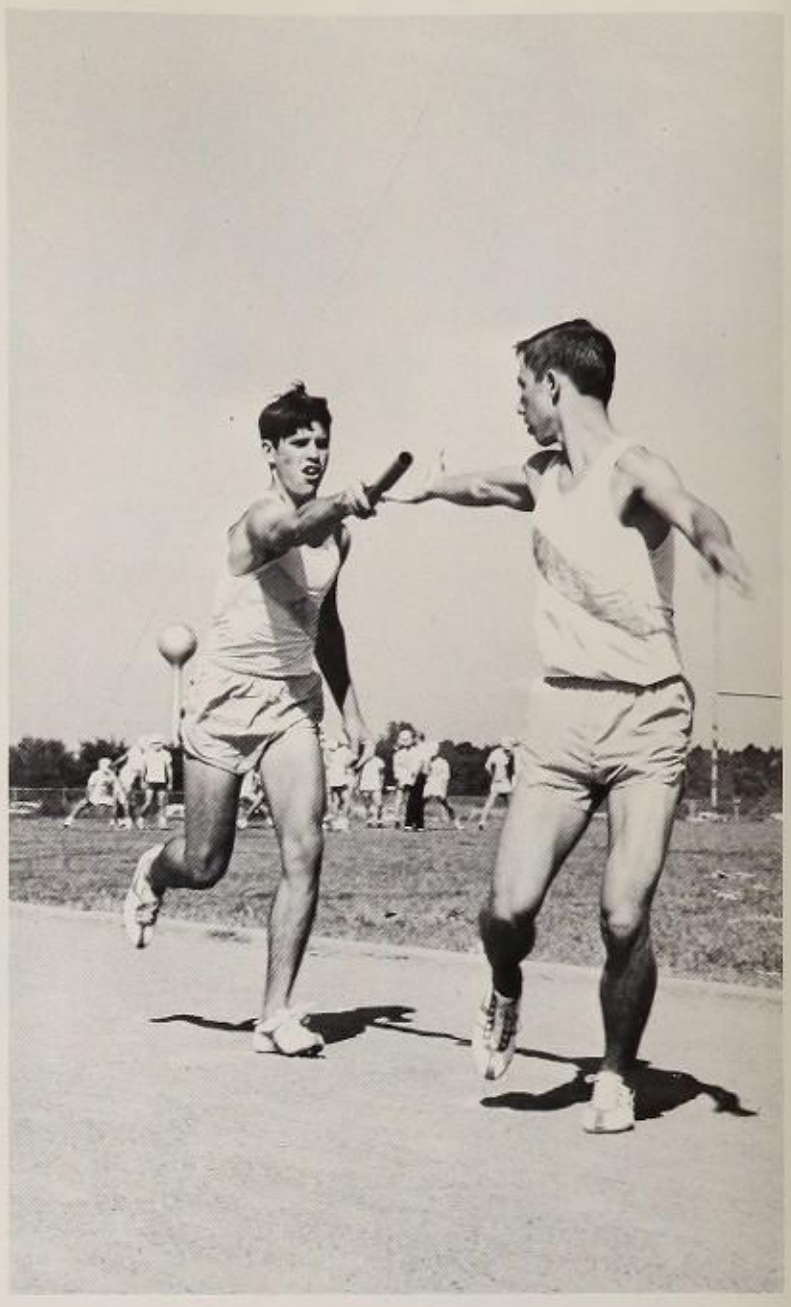
Teammates

What are these teachers doing out of class?



"Don't drop it this time!" Cam Carothers quickly hands the baton to Lutcher Sinclair.

Playmates

It's time to play; A familiar scene is the race to the cars at 3 p.m.

Workmates

and Soulmates

Tim Weinrich and Nick Cobb wish each other good luck before taking the bus to the Bridge City Game.

"Now Lou, you can cheer next week!"

"Are you on the inside looking out, or on the outside looking in?" Honest Bob's Ticket Booth attracts Patti Ephgrave and Shannon Lampton.

Winning Takes Time

Presenting the 1968 Stage Band of Robert E. Lee High School

Talent, Effort

Robert E. Lee boasts one of the largest instrumental music departments in Houston.

A major factor contributing to the success of the band and the orchestra is the work of their capable director, Mr. Edward Trongone. His devotion and effort has been an inspiration to his students.

Last year the stage band traveled to Boston and played a series of eight concerts in high schools, bringing national acclaim to Lee.

Eight first place trophies and one second place trophy indicate the success of this band in interscholastic competition.

This year the Stage Band was host for the first annual state wide Stage Band Festival.

"One-two-three," Mr. T. directs his famed stage band.

Jan Wheat is a "big hit" in gym.

Jan Haberlie is really "on the ball."

A big smile for a big loser!

Co-operation and Desire

Practice and teamwork were the main factors in the Lee Lieutenant's performance this year.

Elected Representatives Are

Student Council Representatives from each homeroom meet to discuss this year's project.

The election committee of the Student Council is busy tallying the votes for Homecoming Queen.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Arlene Parson, the Student Council has undertaken many projects that have added beauty, comfort and service to the students and faculty. The Award for Excellence Plaque that gives lasting recognition to outstanding students was the spring project of these elected representatives. Buying portable bleachers for the athletic field was the main 1968 project.

the Voice of the Students

CHARGE!!!!

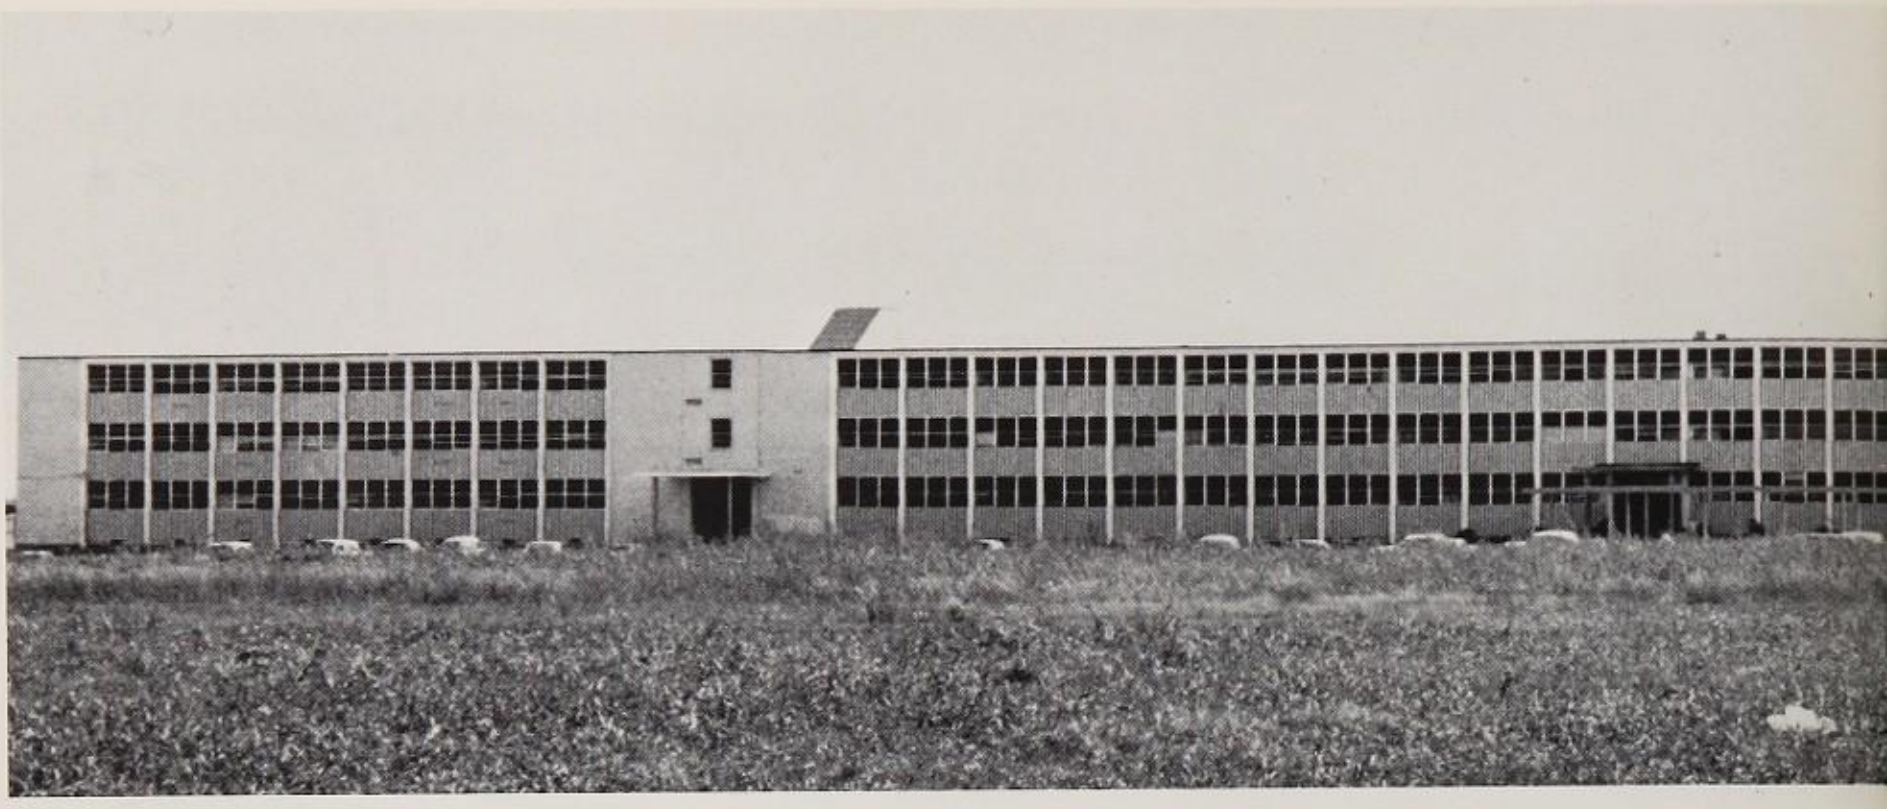
"What do you mean we're going to lose!" Dru Nell Johnson scolds Steve Richmond for his scepticism.

"Now wear this forever and a day." Judy Gillan pins a feather on Greg Thorson.

"I wish you'd hurry!" Debbie Howey, Kit Hanks, and Karen Hayes are thirsty after cheering our team to victory.

"How much did you say?" Rob Neblett argues with Susan Calloway over the price of a box of kleenex.

This Is Robert E. Lee —



We Are the Team

Pat Mohr and Jim Upton can't resist making faces for the camera while Miss Reed informs them of the next deadline.

Here is the latest addition to the Can-Can girls.

"I told you not to use a flash!" Don Stewart is taken back by the camera.

Vance Muse is making "eyes" at Kris Knoll.

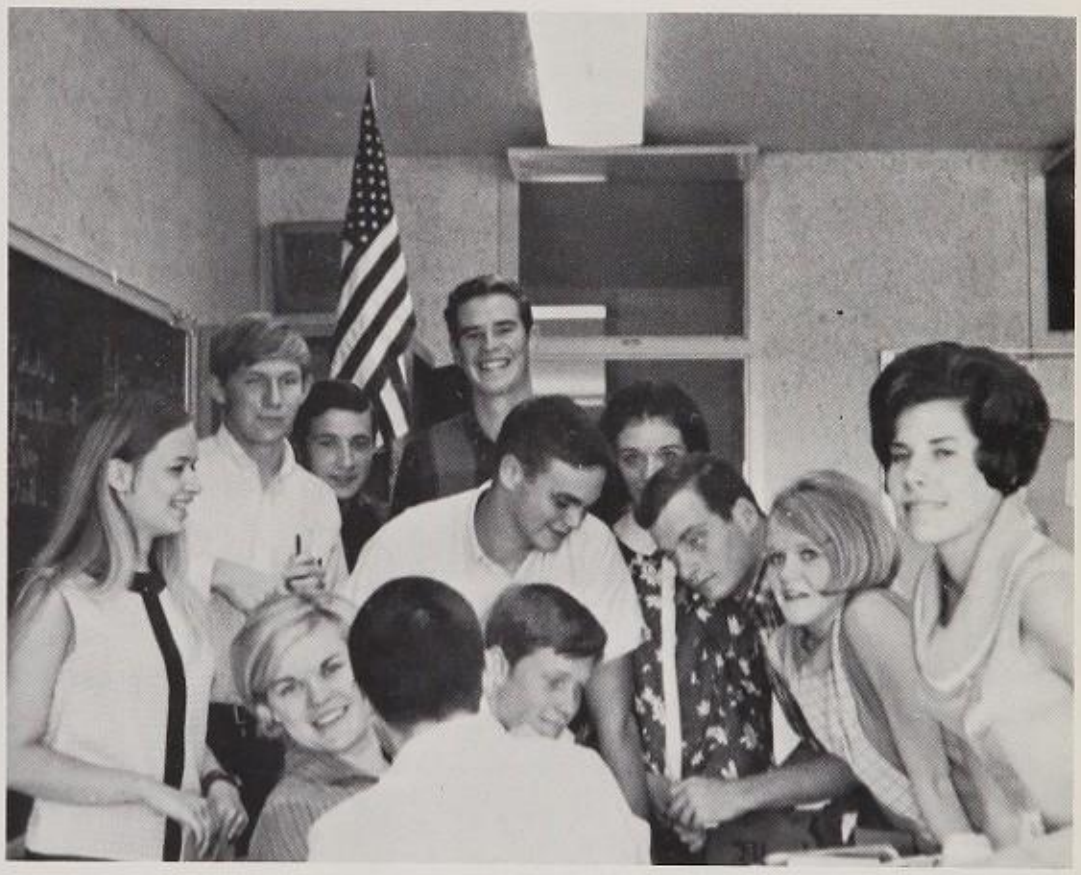
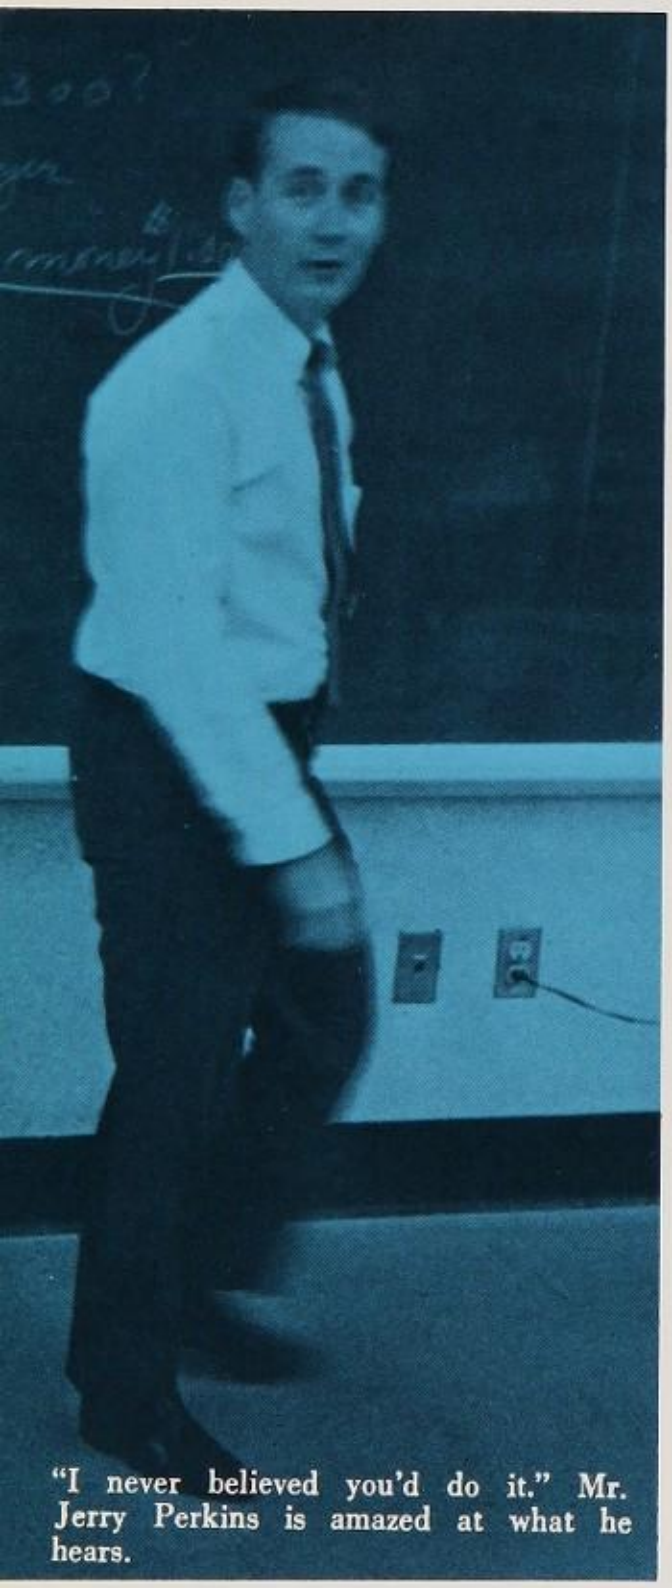
That Makes It Go

¿Qué paso, Señor?

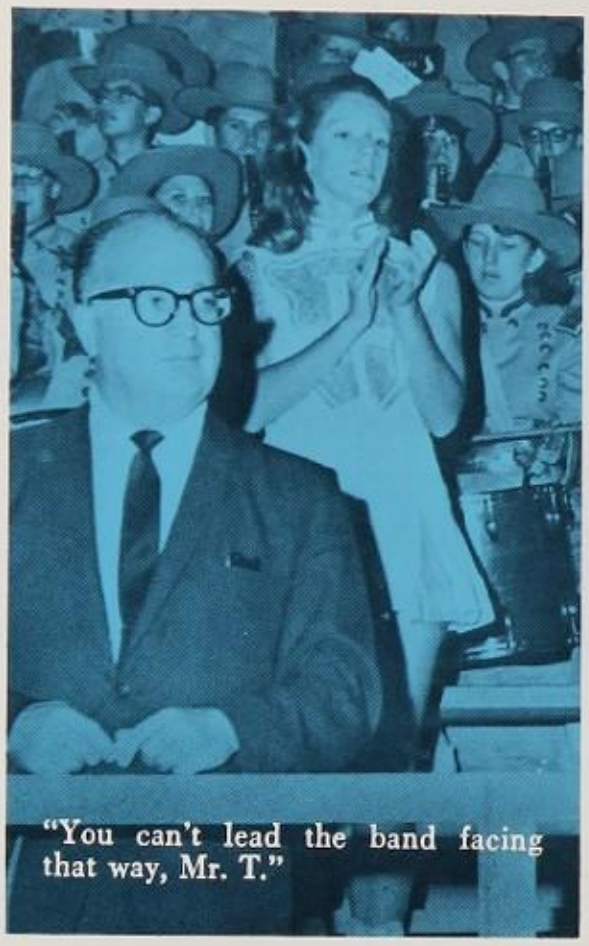


Togetherness is being in Miss Moehlman's English class.

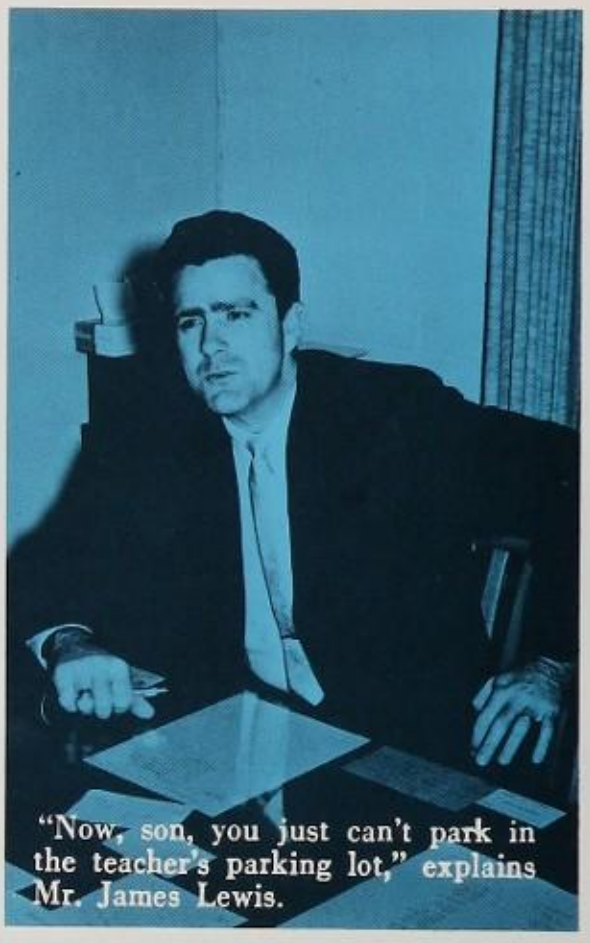
During halftime Rob Murphy wonders, "How could I have missed that interception?"



"I never believed you'd do it." Mr. Jerry Perkins is amazed at what he hears.



"You can't lead the band facing that way, Mr. T."



"Now, son, you just can't park in the teacher's parking lot," explains Mr. James Lewis.

Miss Margaret Reed and Miss Diane Ludtke take time out for a coke.

"That's right, Robert, f-i-s-h-" Mr. Hill lends Robert Gerhardt a hand.

Faculty

One hundred and twenty-one dedicated men and women make up the faculty of Robert E. Lee. Working together, they strive to instill in each individual the desire to learn, to develop his abilities to the fullest, to promote school spirit, and to mold the students into the leaders of tomorrow.

Mrs. Pete Hawk, membership chairman, looks on as Mr. J. T. Shivers addresses parents at P.T.A. Open House.

Teachers listen attentively (?) at faculty meeting.

"Well, Dr. Watts, that's what I call form!" Mr. Shivers is an avid sports enthusiast.

And he eats Wheaties for breakfast too! Mr. Shivers relaxes with faculty at lunch.

Gib Walton, Scholastic Award Winner, is congratulated by Mr. Shivers at the football banquet.

Our Principal . . . A Man of Action

Walking slowly down the emptied and quiet hall, he turned to smile at a late-working teacher. Perhaps considering one of the many facets of his job of decision-making and responsibility, he stopped to pick up and replace a book which had fallen out of a half-open locker.

This is Mr. J. T. Shivers, basically a mild-mannered and dignified man, who carries out the tasks of his job capably and with careful consideration. He takes great pride in his school and the many achievements and advances it has made while under his guidance. He takes an avid interest in the many activities of his school, and may always be depended on to offer his help or support. He is uncomplicated and hard-working, and among other interests in his time away from the school, he enjoys working with his Tennessee Walking Horse, Star of Midnight. In his six years of service at Lee, he has seen the school grow tremendously, in enrollment as well as in spirit, and this year the school proudly boasts a new wing. His contributions have done much to make Robert E. Lee the outstanding school it is today.

Nearing the entrance to his office at the end of the hall, he opened the door and walked to the front of his desk. He picked up a folded newspaper, and after reading a note left on his desk, turned to leave, quietly shutting the door behind him.

The camera always catches men of distinction. This time it is Congressman George Bush and Mr. Shivers at a recent teachers' breakfast.

MRS. MARY C. SMITH
Dean of Women
University of Houston, B.S.; M.S.

As Dean, Mrs. Mary Carolyn Smith is responsible for all areas of student life, particularly those related to the interests and welfare of the girls at Lee.

She works behind the scenes, planning and coordinating all of the activities that make student life more interesting and enjoyable.

Her patience and understanding in her counseling with individual students help establish and maintain the environment of challenge and achievement that is so important to Lee.

Honest Bob's Ticket Booth was created by our Assistant Principal, Mr. James Lewis. He is extremely proud of Lee and takes an interest in all activities of Lee students. Friendly and good natured, he is willing to help out in every possible way, even by taking his shovel and helping Lee students plant trees and shrubs to beautify the school.

In his two years at Lee, his enthusiasm in working with the students and faculty has contributed much toward making Lee a better school.

Sophomore Orientation is the first of many events to take place during the school year. It brings hundreds of new students, not only to be introduced to Lee and its winning traditions, but also to give them a chance to meet the school leaders and faculty.

One of the first requirements of a General is the spirit it takes to keep on trying. It takes teamwork to win; for the team, the cheerleaders, and the entire student body. It also takes support—whether it's making posters, performing in skits, or just cheering the team on to make victory possible.

The sophomores get their first look at Uncle Bob at Orientation.

Leading Lee

With springtime comes election time, and being elected cheerleader is one of the most coveted honors. This year Kathy Lewis, Charlie Martin, Leila Peckham, Bill Krell, Ann Spoor, and Bobby Baker were the choice to lead and to instill spirit in all of Lee's students. Alternates, Arlene Robinson, and Wynn Warren, did an outstanding job.

Long practices, aching muscles, and hoarse voices were all a part of their job —but it was a job well done.

Programs, and Cheer

Christmas means many things to many people and to some it is the giving of one's self for others. An example of this holiday spirit is the party given for the children in the Shriner's Hospital by the Anchor Club. The Key Club gave a party for the children at the Rush Settlement House and at the same time the Hospitality Club entertained the children at Sherman and Crockett schools.

Activities preceding the holidays included the program given by the Dixie-Liers and Southernaires under the direction of Mr. Paul Ofield. Besides the annual Christmas Door Contest, the NDCC Department sponsored their first Turkey Shoot.

Pam Sproule, Debbie Vaughan, Steve Cumley, Kish Baker, Gib Walton, and Eddie O'Brien had some gay times over the holidays!

Sports '67-'68

Athletics play a large part in the life of the student at Robert E. Lee. For months the athlete practices to his full abiblity to achieve perfection in all aspects of sports. He has the desire to work hard, for only by hard work can he became a winner. The price he pays can not be paid in dollars and cents, but only in sweat and hard work. The results of his work is worth much more than money can buy and the memories will last him a lifetime.

To begin one's first year as Head Coach is a hard enough task, but to have a winning season to show for that first year's debut is something really extraordinary.

The '67-'68 Sports Saber congratulates Head Coach Clements for his fine 6-2-2 record during his first season as head coach at Lee High School. He was ably assisted by five of the finest coaches in the city: Richard Redd, first assistant, head line, and defensive coach; George Craig, head backfield coach, offense and defense; Tommy Yates, line coach, tackles, and guards. Bringing up the future Varsity were coaches Bill McMillan and George Mehaffy.

The Bridge City game was a special one in many cases. For Coach Joe Clements it was his first victory as head coach at Robert E. Lee. For the Lee Generals it was their first game and victory of the season and the first out of town game the Generals had won in four years. A fine defense made up for a slow-starting offense in the game, and made the bus ride home a happy one.

In a tough game at Delmar, Lee's Generals overcame a final-minute surge by Reagan to overpower the Bulldogs, 10-7. In a game where both teams had touchdowns called back, the Lee defensive unit held back Reagan, while David Keeton behind the blocking of Tim Weinrich, Gib Walton, Robert McCarty, Bill Yeoman, and Mike Thompson, powered the offense to a touchdown; a 28-yard field goal by Steve Sanford cinched the win.

When you face the number four team in the state, you tend to get a bit nervous. In their last game of the season, Lee met Kashmere. In this hard-hitting game, Lee played errorless ball and almost beat the cocky Rams. Sanford scored the lead touchdown on a one-yard plunge, and the Generals held the Rams until late in the fourth quarter when a long pass completion set up the Rams' lone touchdown. Turning in important defense for the Generals were: Wright Moody, with an intercepted pass and fumble recovery; Trooper Miley with two intercepted passes; Jim MacIntyre, for tackling the ball carrier for a 15-yard loss; and with Nick Cobb, Ken Stowe, and Lara Chandler also helping out. When the dust had cleared, all agreed that Kashmere had more soul than Lee, but that was all.

Building a Tradition

When a coach is faced with a young team with little experience he is not expected to win. Coach George Mehaffey faced this situation and beat it as he came through with a 16 win—11 loss season. Such experienced ball handlers as Rob Nelms and Robert Hensch helped new comers Stacy Hunt, Walt McCowan, Don Howard and Terry Conners. By the end of the season four out of the starting five were either sophomores or juniors. With the experience that these boys gained this year, it would be safe to say that next year could easily be the best basketball season that Lee has ever had.

Clubs

Meeting, planning, doing . . . clubs at Lee are busy organizations. Some prepare members for a career, while others bring people with similar interests together, and still others serve the school. By actively working together in clubs, students can help to build the winning tradition which is Lee's.

Teamwork Runs a Store

Sophomores with bad colds, juniors beginning a foreign language, and seniors taking shorthand all turn to the Generals' store. There, anything from cough drops to paperback dictionaries to writing tablets may be bought.

Operating this important supply-house is the main activity of the American Legion Club. Members—winners and runners-up of the American Legion Award in junior high school—work in shifts before school and during 4th period when the store is open. Mrs. Velma Brennan not only sponsors the club, but also acts as chief custodian for the store.

Surrounded by their well-stocked shelves are the American Legion Club officers—Bill Moody, president; Randy Lazarine, secretary; Susan Callaway, treasurer; and Arlene Robinson, vice-president.

Twice a month, before school on Monday, the Anchor Club meets. During a typical meeting, plans may be made for Law Day, for the Christmas door-decoration contest, or for Career Day. These projects, along with Sophomore Orientation and a party for crippled children, are all sponsored by the Anchor Club.

Prospective members of this service organization for girls are rated by teachers according to their scholarship, leadership, and willingness to serve. A 3.5 grade average with no more than one G in conduct each semester is required.

While building a tradition of service for their club, Anchor Club members are adding to the character of their school.

Service That Enriches Lee

Dixi-Liers . . .

The Dixi-Liers, like other musical groups at Lee, had many opportunities during the last year to perform outside school. At civic functions—the Junior League—for example, they ably represented Lee. At regional and state-wide contests, they added to Lee's winning reputation. Here at school, they participated in Christmas, Easter, and spring programs. Their year was climaxed by a trip in March to the Buccaneer Festival at Corpus Christi.

Dixi-Liers sing not only to entertain, but also to increase their audience's appreciation of good music. C.S.U. is a Tuesday morning tradition. At 7:40 every Tuesday, students gather in the auditorium to sing, to hear inspirational speakers, and to evaluate their Christian ideals. This year the club listened to pastors, banjo players, and even a former president of the club. Attending three successive meetings will not only qualify a student for membership in the Christian Student Union, but will also enrich his spiritual life.

Training fos Business Careers

Some members have an afterschool job while others have carbon-smeared fingers. All have one thing in common: they are interested in business careers.

Lee's Future Business Leaders Club was formed to acquaint members with the business world. Special speakers are invited to the club's monthly dinner meeting, which is held in addition to Wednesday morning meetings. This year, as before, the club sold personalized stationery and iron-on name labels. Interested students need only a 2.0 average and an E in conduct to qualify for membership.

Future leaders of business are characterized by an energetic aggressiveness.

For DECA students at Lee, 1967-1968 has been a year of change. During this time, the club has acquired not only a new sponsor but a new and larger room as well.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America acquaint students with marketing and distribution in preparation for future business careers. With Mr. Ritch as sponsor, DECA students at Lee study these fields for one class period each day. Then they put their knowledge to practical use by working for firms that cooperate with the DECA program.

DECA does not stop its activities here, though; special meetings, fashion shows, dances, and contests complete the club schedule. This year a pre-Christmas dance was held at Willowisp Country Club. Later, Lee students participated in a Sales Demonstration Contest which involved many schools of this area.

That Lee students are interested in drama is shown by the 200-member club, Dramalee. This year, with Miss Maureen McIntyre as sponsor, Dramalee has continued its tradition of good acting and entertaining productions.

Individually, Dramalee members participate in the talent show and in tournaments. Poetry, dramatic and humorous interpretation, and impromptu speaking have been Lee's strong fields this year.

As a whole, Dramalee presented two one-act plays and a musical. "A Company of Wayward Saints", a satirical comedy was produced in the fall. "Finian's Rainbow", an up-to-date musical, was given in February in cooperation with the music department. Last to be produced was a one-act play for Interscholastic League competition, "The Mad Woman of Chaillot". When the SABER went to press, this play had won bi-district and district honors and was scheduled to meet Bellaire in regional competition.

"Join Dramalee and you, too, can have the whitest teeth on your block." These smiling officers are Lynette Lambert, treasurer; Cathy Guernsey, secretary; Sharon Murphy, vice-president; and Bill Moody, president.

France to Lee

Students at Lee who study French call it Les Fleurs de Lee; other students know it more simply as the French Club. By any name, it is the organization that encourages interest in the language, history, and customs of France. To do this, the club meets twice each month for meetings about any subject from French foods to special Christmas customs. Les Fleurs de Lee's faculty breakfast, which is becoming an annual event at Lee, was held in the fall this year. With Mrs. Peterson as sponsor, the French club is continuing its program of service to Lee students.

Karen Bishop, Kathe Powers, Candy Gilliam, and Lorrie Hockensmith had trouble staying awake at the faculty breakfast but enjoyed the food anyway.

At their annual Parent-Son Banquet in December, Future Farmers demonstrated their knowledge of farm life (worms?) and technique.

Lee's 1968 FFA Sweetheart is Jan Wheat.

FFA Means Boots . . .

On February 5, 1968, the Future Farmers of America held their annual stock show. Exhibits in the show—calves, rabbits, chickens—were the special projects which Future Farmers had nursed for months.

Lee's Future Farmers meet for a two-period couse each day. Mr. Sheffield, FFA sponsor, teaches them all about agriculture—the business side as well as the practical knowledge.

As a club, the FFA sells the school calendar, attends leadership contests, gives a Parent-Son banquet (and wears cowboy boots).

German students know what Deutsch Verein means—and many belong to the club of that name. Sponsored by Mrs. Rost and Mrs. Landry, Deutsch Verein observed an Oktoberfest and attended the State German Convention in Huntsville. The presentation of a German play and the "birth" of a distinctive German band highlighted this year's events.

The 1968 Lieutenants . . .

After attending drill team school at S.M.U. in August, the Lieutenants presented new, refreshing, and crowd-pleasing routines at every game.

In December, they had the Mother-Daughter Banquet. In addition to publishing the Lee Directory, the Lieutenants sold magazine subscriptions to help finance their senior trip to Nassau in the Bahamas.

Mrs. Catherine Allais became sponsor at mid-term. In March the Lieutenants put on a style show for the student body, and in April they held their famous Rebelee Ball.

The final performance for the Lieutenants was the half-time show at the Annual Gold-Gray spring football game.

In addition to attending all football and basketball games and serving the school on open house night and at many other school activities, the Lieutenants also serve the community in many ways.

They sold forget-me-nots for the Disabled Veterans, and gathered toys for underprivileged children at Christmas.

Certainly Lee and all of Houston can be proud of the talented Lieutenants.

Teaching Future Teachers

Lee students who plan to make teaching a career belong to the Future Teachers Club. As members, they train themselves while helping today's faculty. According to the sponsor Mrs. Bessie Price, the club's activities are all designed to cultivate the qualities of a good teacher in each member.

A candy sale held last October enabled the Future Teachers to help a needy family at Thanksgiving and to host a party for teachers at Christmas. The annual spring banquet completed this year's schedule of activities.

The Future Teachers Club is significant not only as a career training-ground but also as a service organization.

These officers sneaked a preview of that forbidden ground—The Teacher's Lounge. Future Homemakers . . .

JANE DOBKINS, vice president
DONNA THOMAS, president

The Home Economics Club often serves Lee by serving tea to the faculty, coffee to Career Day speakers, or lunch to mid-term grauates. Such service, however, is only a part of the club's varied program. Since all members are enrolled in either Foods, Clothing, or Home and Family Living, meetings are held during class once a month. Speakers telling about new dishware or the importance of lighting in interior decorating may replace days of work on a brocade evening gown or on the menu for a fictitious dinner-party. In these ways, the Home Economics Club is acquainting its members with the many different aspects of modern homemaking.

Keynoting Service

The Key Club is to boys what the Anchor Club is to girls. Made up of top students from each classification, it provides opportunities of service for its members. Career Day, a Christmas party at the Rusk Settlement, and the Leadership Banquet are major projects each year. This year, the boys participated in the "dig-in", the planting of shrubs to beautify the campus.

Yes, Peyton, your jacket is very nice. Ken Decker and David Minto hold up the flagpole while Wally Darneille, George Hester, Peyton Luckett, Victor Harris, Barry Bertin, Jack Yoes, and Craig Clarke occupy space.

Mrs. Gallagher and Mrs. Spidell, full-time librarians, are shown with four of their assistants, the club officers: Sandy Langford, treasurer; Louise Riley, secretary; Susan Langham, vice-president; and Patsy Gee, president.

The facilities offered by the Library are indispensable to students as well as to faculty. Members of the Library Club keep it open before and after school, decorate it for Christmas, advertise its various resources, and host visitors during Open House. Any student who is interested in this vital service may participate in the club.

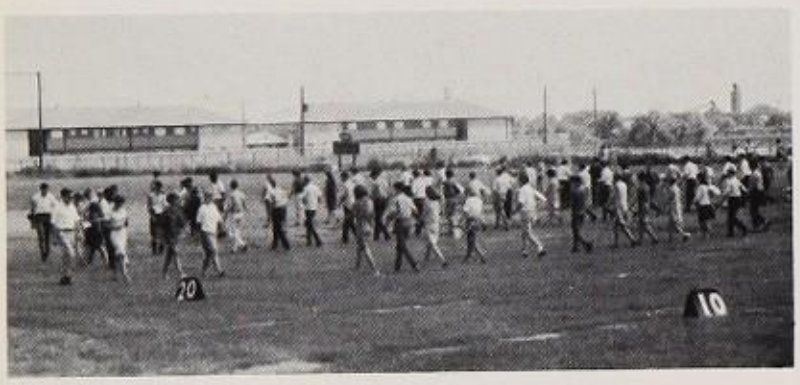
Marching Generals Make A

"Presenting ..." Meet Mr. T. ("T" for Trongone.) He directs the band.

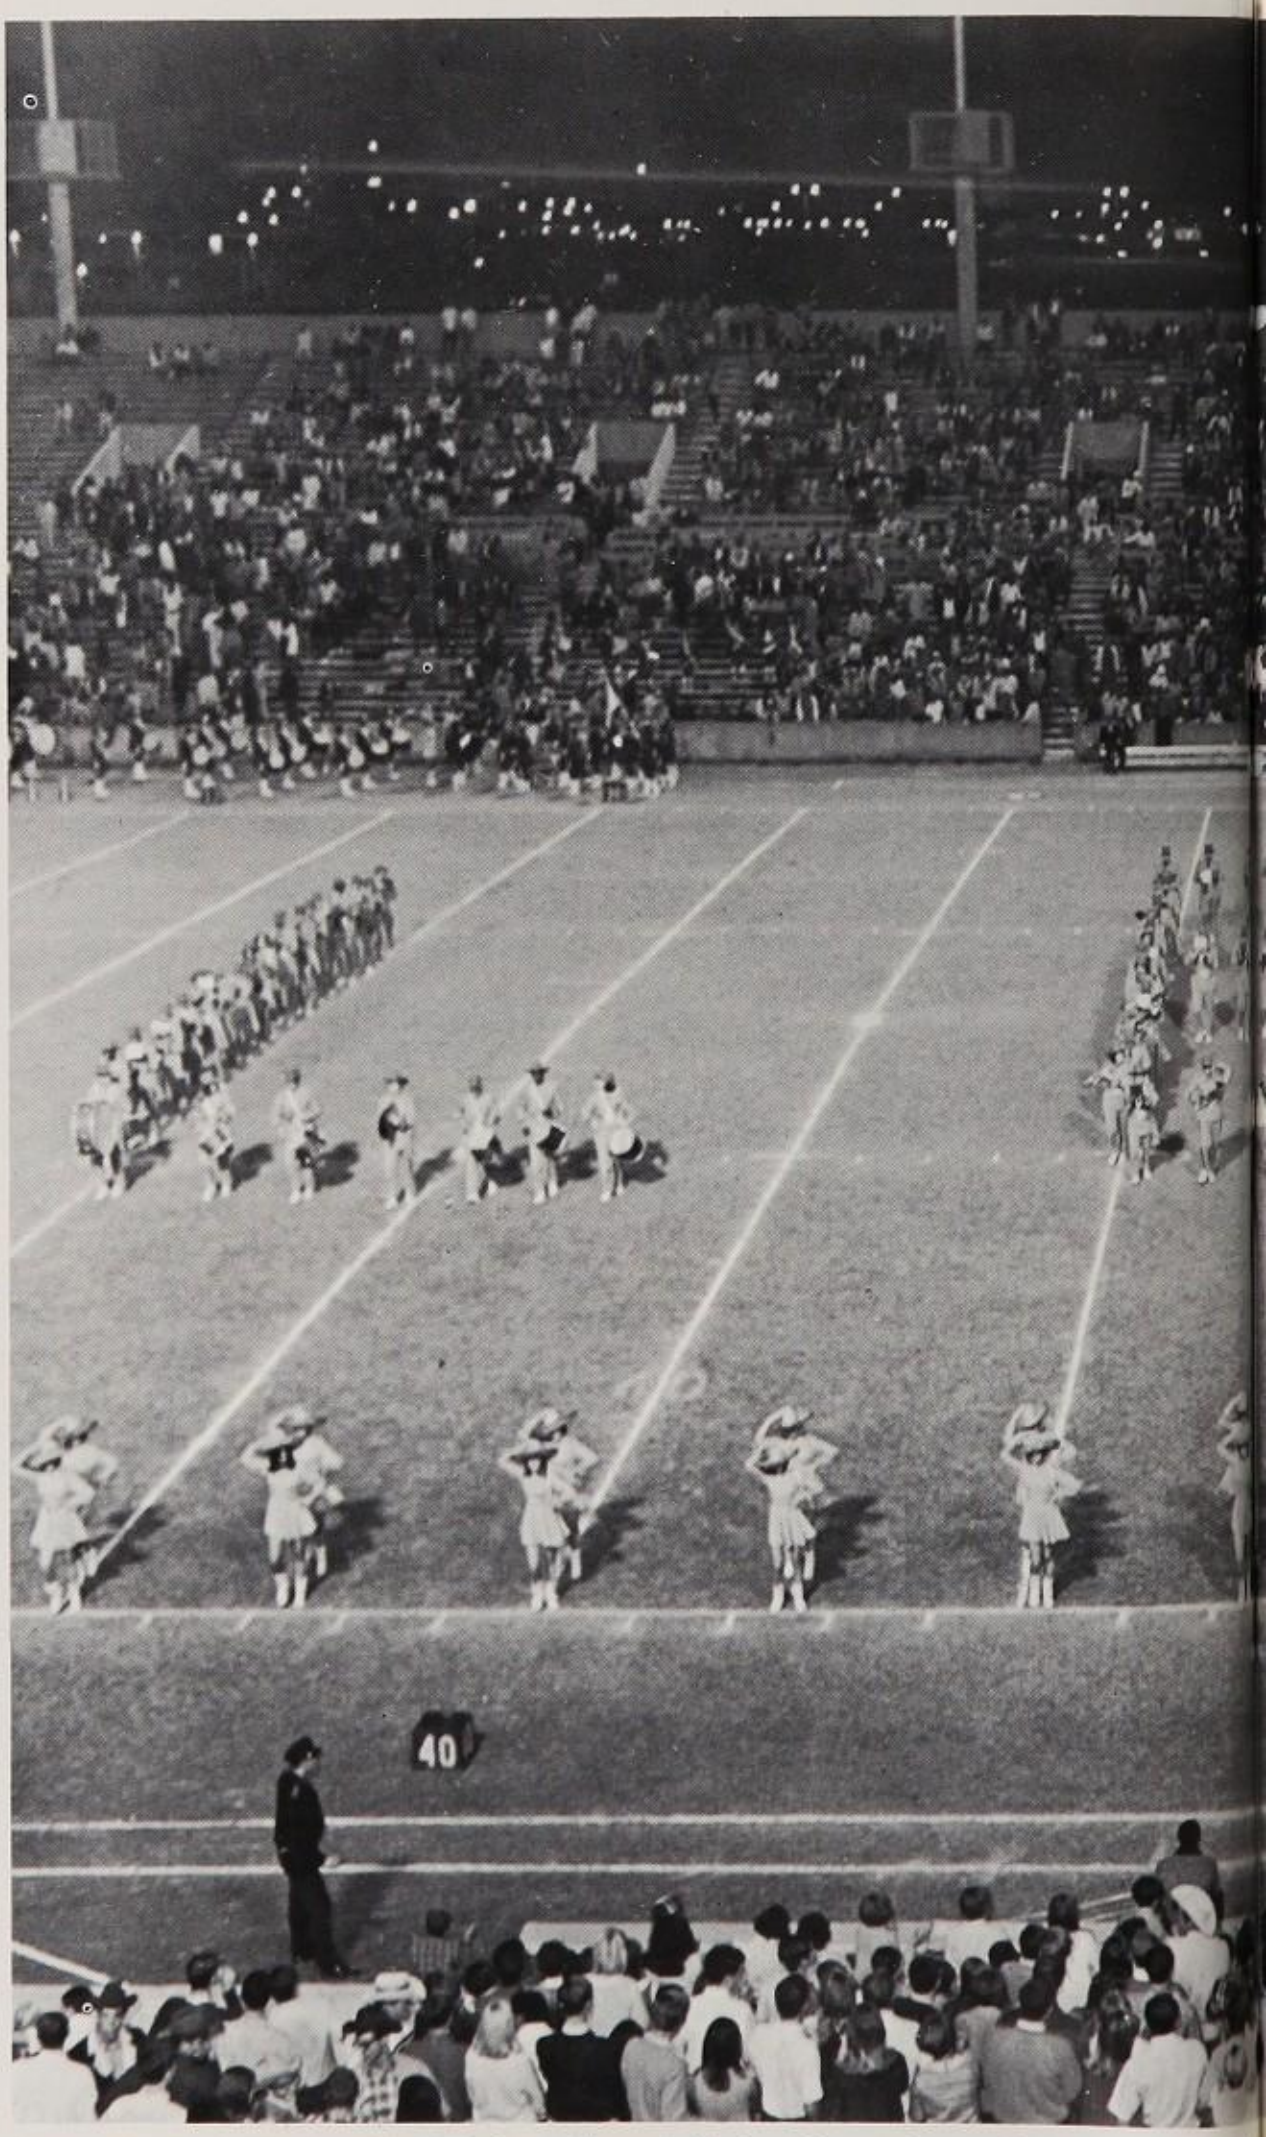
"Presenting for your halftime enjoyment the pride of Houston, the Robert E. Lee High School Band—the Marching Generals."

With this introduction, approximately 100 gray-suited musicians march onto the football field. There, they perform with the confidence and precision which has made them one of the "winning-est" groups at Lee. The Marching Generals, however, do more than play at half-times; they enter contests and play for civic functions. The 1968 Marching Generals have been a big part of our school's winning tradition.



"1-2, 1-2, turn, ..." Sometimes the band even practices marching. Would you believe it?

"Hey," says Lewis Tabola. "if you haven't been to a band party, you haven't lived!" Debbie Heard and Donna Seale agree.



The mighty Marching Generals "salute Lee and its fighting spirit" at ea

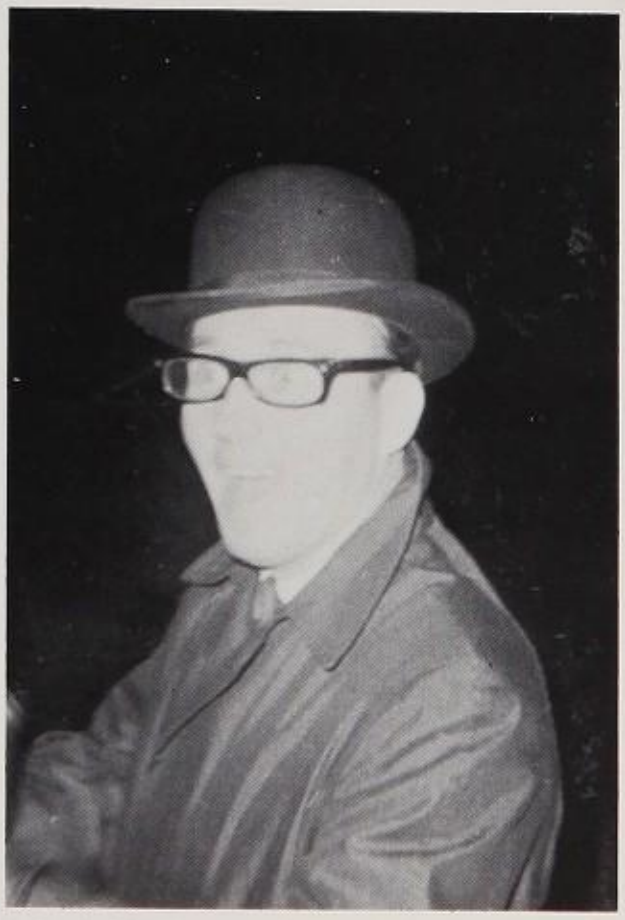
"The band is led on the field by Lee Jolly, band commander." Lee always wears a white hat.

Habit of Winning

What Ronnie Laws, Uncle Bob, Danny Thune, and Gaston Robau are trying to point out is that the band raises money by giving an annual spaghetti dinner.

tball game. Students in the stands know why the band is called "the pride of Houston."

"Fellows, I don't care if the whole band is sick; the show must go on." Lee Jolly, John Phares, and Brian Duke seem to have lost the rest of the band.



"Yea! Ya'll played it right for once." The SABER joins with Mr. Jerry Perkins, assistant band director, in applauding the Marching Generals.

Premeditating Medicine

Medical profession, beware! This group is coming. With Miss Jerabek, club sponsor, are Jim Keegan, vice-president; Jimmy Weaver, president; Diane Manchester, secretary; and Martha Foster, treasurer.

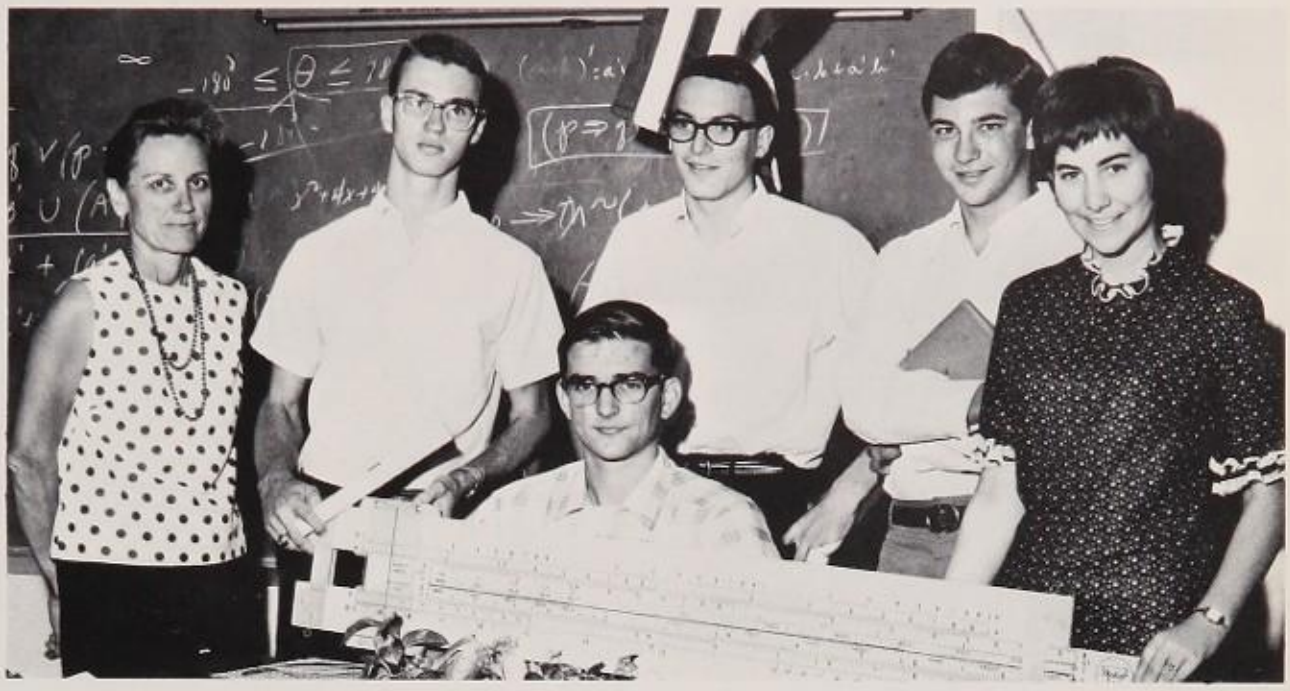
Students considering medicine as a profession find that the Medical Careers Club is very helpful. By acquainting its members with medicine as it really is, by informing them of different areas of the field, and by actively involving them in medical work, the club guides them in their choice of a career.

Calculating the Winning Formula

Mu Alpha Theta is neither a secret society nor an elite fraternity; IT'S A MATH CLUB. High school students with a special interest in mathematics become eligible for membership in this national organization when they begin their fifth semester of math.

The club at Lee is sponsored by Mrs. Thera Yoes and meets the first and third Fridays of every month. Program topics range from lofty discourses on topology (removing-one's-vest-without-removing-one's-coat?) to methods of solving College Board problems.

A math club by any other name is still a math club, but Mu Alpha Theta does not limit itself to merely computing complicated problems.



Working with Mrs. Yoes on a giant-size problem are Don Smith, treasurer; Tom Janson, president; Stephen Shelton, reporter; Wynn Warren, vice-president; and Valeria Amburgey, secretary.

Mu Delta Chi

Mu Delta Chi has always been one of the most active clubs at Lee. The Modern Dance Club was organized to give girls the opportunity to perform as well as to learn more about the art of modern dance. Tryouts are held in the fall for new members. The sponsor is Mrs. Ella Allen.

National Debate Champs

The National Forensic League is undeniably a big part of Lee's winning tradition. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Arthur Crutchfield, NFL members entered nationwide tournaments from Florida to Oklahoma, New York, and Washington, D.C. Club president David Brown and vice-president Stewart Jay formed an unbeatable debate team that placed first in seven out of nine contests. With as outstanding a year as 1968 on record, NFL has quite a reputation to protect in future.

... And they're representative of the top five per cent? The honorable officers are Bill Moody, parliamentarian; Judy Mills, reporter; Lutcher Sinclair, vice-president; Gib Walton, president; Leila Peckham, secretary; Cam Carothers, treasurer; Ann Spoor, chaplain.

Scholarship, leadership, service, and character—these are the qualities encouraged by the National Honor Society. These are also the standards by which a special faculty committee at Lee selects members of the organization. Only the top five per cent of high junior and senior classes are eligible.

Purely honorary by nature, the National Honor Society is composed of Lee's most active and most outstanding students.

For Journalists Only

The Robert E. Lee Chapter of Quill and Scroll, founded in 1962, is composed of Traveler and Saber staff members, who fulfill the requirements. Members from the newspaper staff are selected on the basis of the amount of written material published and advertising sold. Yearbook members qualify after one year of service on the staff.

Most schools have a Spanish club and a French club, but not many have a Russian club. Unusual, with unusual activities, Lee's Russian club publishes a newspaper written entirely in Russian and sells slogan buttons. Highpoint of this year was the arrival of a Russian typewriter.

Because Americans have little true understanding of the Russian culture, Mrs. Toubin, who sponsors the club, encourages study of Russian literature, arts, and music. This education will hopefully prepare members for language-related careers.

Understanding the Russians

If the Russian language is as poetic as this picture is, then it must be worth learning. The Russian Club officers are, from left: Sally Miller, sec.; Kathy Neighbor, treas.; Billy Thompson, sgt.-at-arms; Paula Drouet, pres.; Jackie Nash, vice-pres.; Mrs. Toubin.

Club officers are: Bruce Baker, secretary; Steve Nelson, program coordinator; Johnny Bendall, treasurer; Bob Selig, president; and Don Smith, vice-president.

In science, all progress is dependent on the sharing of ideas and discoveries—teamwork. At Lee, the Science Club brings interested students together on every other Monday for discussion and study. By working together—listening to guest speakers, making field trips, working in the spring for the "Seminar of Science"—members have more chances to pursue their interests. This, again, is teamwork.

When the Spanish club turns out in full force, there's quite a crowd.

Uh, did Eddie say something funny, Mrs. Dorsey?

7:30 is just too early for Mack Woodward to smile. Treasurer of the club, he is shown with Ellen Atwood, secretary; Janet Bang, president; and Nancy Eppes, vice-president.

Studying the Spanish culture is the major function of the Spanish club. Its many members meet twice a month. In addition, they participate in several projects outside school. This year they held a poster party, a song fest, and a game party. Their Christmas project at Rosewood General Hospital was especially unusual for a language club.

These enthusiastic choraleers get up all wrapped up in the songfest: Mack Woodward, Steve Nelson, Karen Martin, Lorrie Hockensmith, and Janet Myers.

Contests . . . Confidence

Well-known as an outstanding group, Lee's Stage Band worked hard this year to keep its image. Beginning in Nacogdoches, it took first place at the Stephen F. Austin Stage Band Contest. Later, in Huntsville, the band won second place in competition. This group, the "A" band, is directed by Mr. Trongone.

"B" Stage Band, directed by Mr. Perkins, rehearses at second period. Both groups perform in the talent show and at special school functions.

Linking Students With Faculty

Meeting to consider this year's special project are the industrious Student Council officers: Kathy Lewis, secretary; Larry Peterson, parliamentarian; Wright Moody, president; Mike Darley, vice-president; and Charlie Martin, treasurer.

A bridge between the students and the faculty, a coordinating body for the many school activities—this is the Robert E. Lee Student Council.

Made up of one representative from each homeroom, the Council supervises all school elections, issues the monthly calendar of events, and supports the Teen-Age Jury in this area. In addition to these regular functions, the Council also carries out the SABER subscription drive and undertakes a special project to benefit all students. This year, that project was the construction of bleachers on the athletic field.

Responsible as well as influential, the Student Council deserves much credit for the winning ways of Lee High School.

Kathy Bunting, Debbie Isabel, and Jim Alton make music together while Dan Smith daydreams.

Anyone who is interested in music and brave enough to withstand the trials of an audition is eligible for Southernaires. Dressed in their stunning yellow blazers, this mixed chorus sings for business groups, contests, and school assemblies. Along with the Dixi-Liers, they make an annual pilgrimage to the Buccaneer Music Festival in Corpus Christi.

Well-known as a first-place choir, the Southernaires are major contributors to Lee's winning tradition.

Texans have a history of which to be proud. Keeping this illustrious past alive for students at Lee is the Texas History Club.

With Mr. Joel Harrell as sponsor, the club meets on the first Thursday of every month. During the year, field trips are made to historical points near Houston and entries are made in a state-wide essay contest.

To students interested in Texas history, this club offers a unique program.

SABER rhymes with labor and labor means work. From early September until March, SABER staffers work. They type until their fingers are cramped. They proportion pictures until "ruler" is a nasty word. They redraw layouts until all the copy sheets are used up. Sometimes they think. Sometimes they yell. Most of the time they're glad to be working.

SABER staffers are people of many talents. When senior-pictures are taken, they become bookkeepers and valets, as well as deadline-beaters.

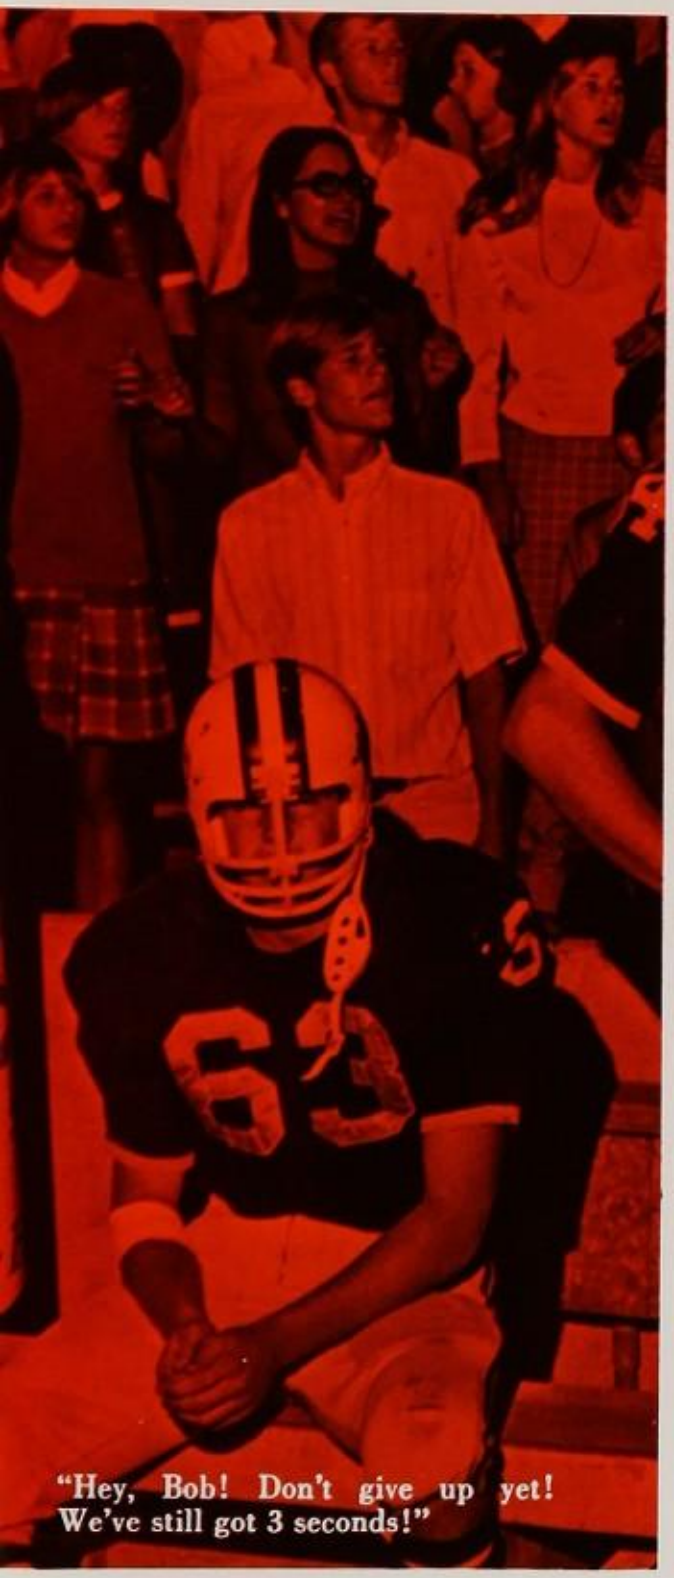
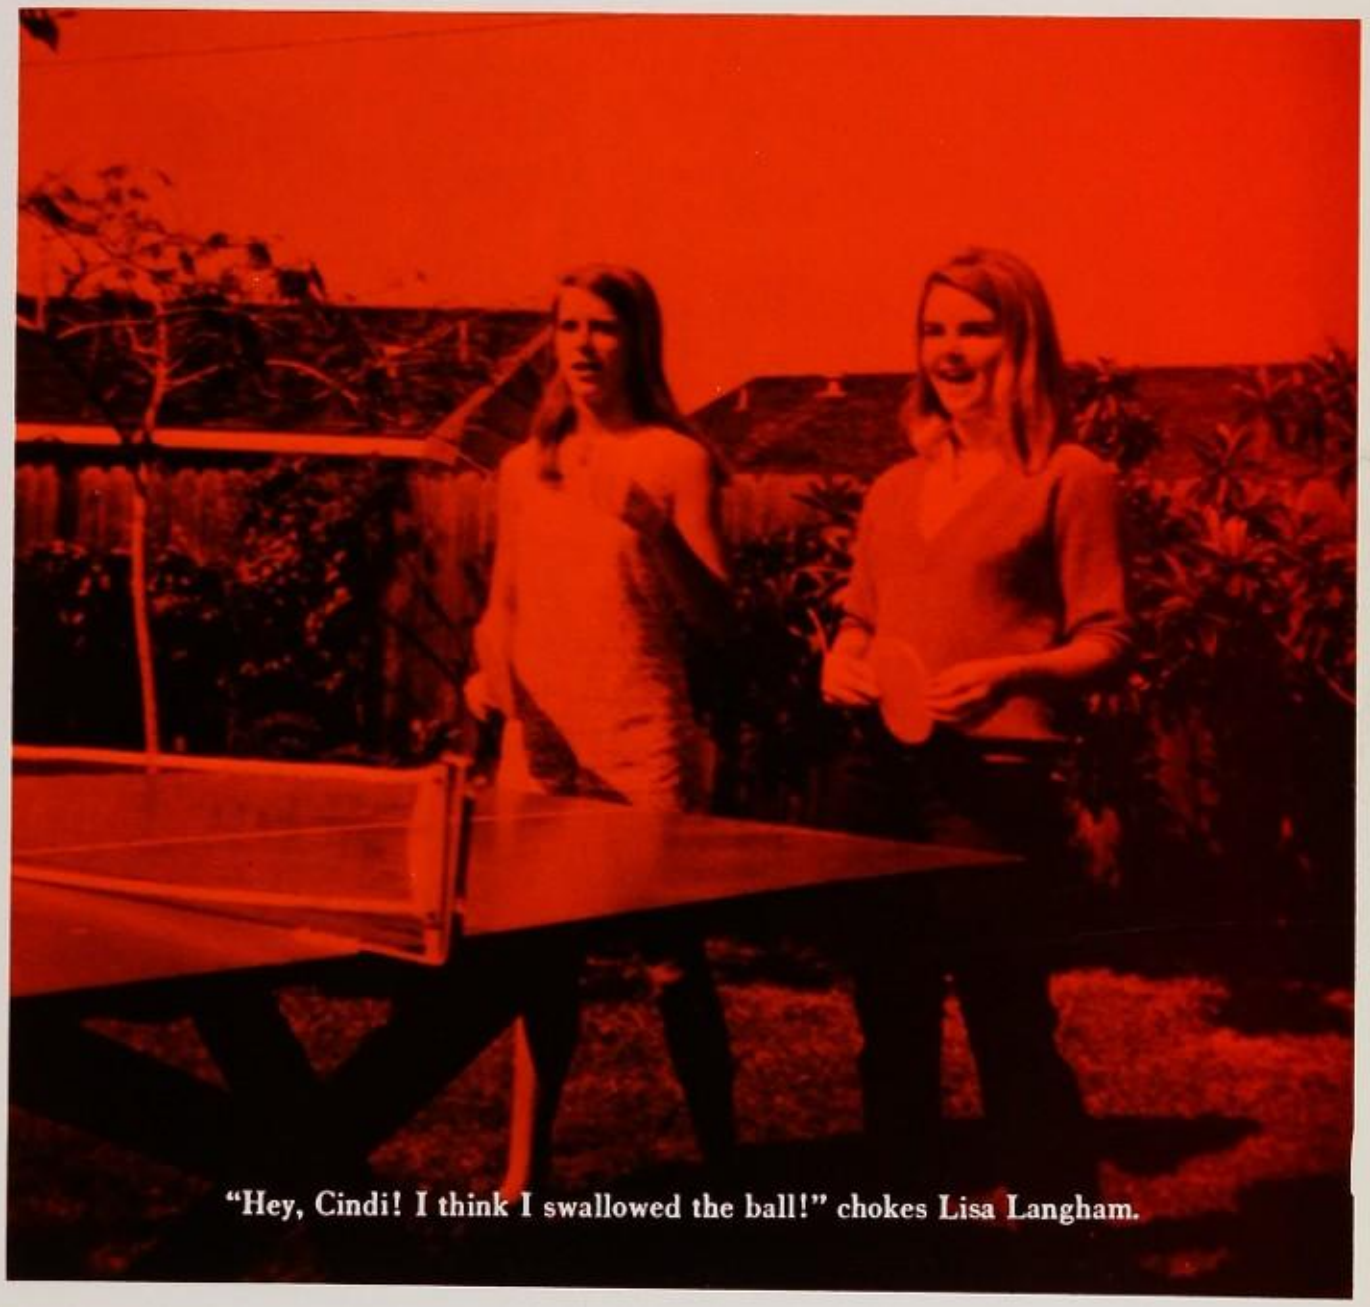
Classes

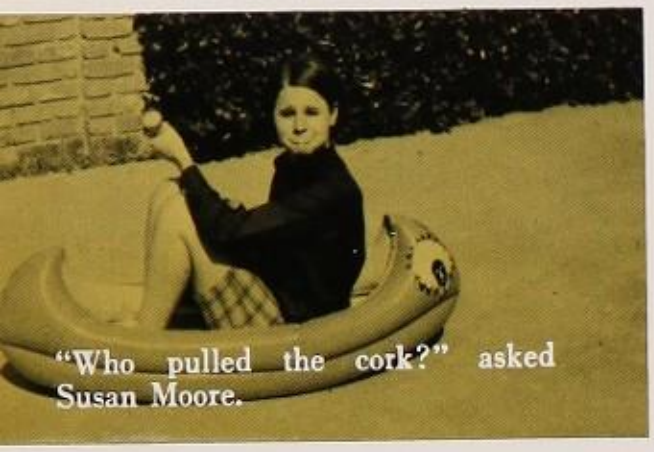
The sophomores came to Robert E. Lee Texas style. Composed of 985 students, it was the largest class ever to enter Lee. Combining their strength with the Junior and Senior Classes, Lee's enrollment swelled to about 2600. Working together and playing together made this team—the Students of R. E. Lee—the strongest part of our winning tradition.



"Hey, Bob! Don't give up yet! We've still got 3 seconds!"



"Hey, Cindi! I think I swallowed the ball!" chokes Lisa Langham.



"Who pulled the cork?" asked Susan Moore.

As Yearbook Editor, I'll Remember

Things:

our constant search for new ideas, cutlines, and pictures campaigning for each color and theme for this year's book knowing what an Excedrin headache is leaving school for fun, food, and filibustering taking class pictures and collecting quarters

People:

Mrs. Wisdom, for through her immeasurable help, guidance, and understanding, I finally found my brain!

Mrs. Parson and the Student Council for handling the elections in time for the Saber deadline.

Mr. D-eon Priest for his concern and wise council.

Arlene for always agreeing with me and writing most of the theme. Thanks, Alice!

Dubby for keeping the girls on the staff interested; Jimmy for continually asking me about "Bags".

Craig, Cynthia, Judy, and Laura for being the limelight of sixth period.

Debbie for keeping the beauties a secret.

Dru Nell for meeting the deadline before reaching the altar; Nancy and Gwen for taking over where she left off.

Kate, Kathy, Lu Ann, Joan, Sharon, and Vickie for their co-ordination and gaiety. Special thanks to Kathy for help on this epilogue.

Susan for being sweet, efficient, dependable, and just Susan; Lynda for being her "club" foot.

James and Carlyn for their tangible tranquillity; Gigi for her cropability.

Paige for being actively inclined.

Mrs. Roach, Marilyn, Ann, Jan, Tom, and Tommy for handling the business end of the Saber.

It is our sincere hope that the student body enjoys this year's Saber.

Becky,

Well Foley [illegible] sales girl,
I'm sure glad I got to know you. I never thought I'd like that bookkeeping class. Just wasn't for me. I got to know you it was fun. I hope we can get together this summer.
You'll have to come over and go swimming with me some time.
Be good.

Lots
Marlene

Becky,

We've known each other for 6 years. That's a pretty long time. I've known each boy you've ever liked and the only you didn't really like but just went with. First there was Kevin Bolin, Irv, Gary Grant, Glenn, Brian, Glenn again, and then Bud.
I guess Bud is the best one you've had, although your mother likes Brian. Oh well,
I hope you - Bud always stay together. I hope we can always be friends,

Love ya,
Patty

[illegible] a sweet girl. I'm sure glad I got to know you. I'd like to [illegible] class. Know you it was fun. I hope we can get together this summer. You'll have to come over and go swimming with me some time. Be good.

Lots
Connie Beene

Have a good summer. Hope to see you next year. Good luck to Bud. Have a good time.

Connie Beene

TO Becky – Well, its almost over kuh – I've really enjoyed cutting up with you & Ronnie in homeroom. I hope that in the future that you have all the love and luck that you can handle! You're really an attractive girl and you'd better look me up in about 4 years! OK? And remember the words of the Maharicki "He who buys a pretty package, buys but a kilo of seeds"

Wayne Bennett.

Becky,
Youre a real great girl with a charming personality. Best of luck to you in all you attempt to do. It has been great knowing you this year. Youre held sweet, so stay that way, and don't get into to much trouble this summer.

Lots of Luck
Judy Bodurtha

Becky
I've known you for a long time now and your looking better than ever. I don't see you much now so I guess when we graduate I want ever see you. Have a great summer.

Love
Gary

To Becky, nice girl
It's been nice knowing you this year and I hope we have another party like Christmas Ever.

Becky,
To a GREAT
Girl which as you
CAN REMEMBER HAVE BEEN
of GREAT FUN. BE SWEET and we will have GREAT fun in summer school. Remember our deal. You are really sweet and I love you to death (HA!) (HA).
Hope you don't forget about me. Please done. We CAN get together this summer CAN'T WE?
LOVE YA-
Sharon

Good luck next year and from now
on I'll get used to this dumb school
I'll see you next year.

Becky,
I want you to know
I have enjoyed sharing
music class with you.
wish you all the luck
in the world always!
